The Primary Care Women's Health Forum Annual Conference will be virtual in 2021.

The PCWHF Annual Conference brings together leading names to improve your practice in women's health.

Key topics include:

- Opportunities for out of hospital care
- PCOS as a public health issue
- Abortion care
- AUB guidance
- Early diagnosis of ovarian cancer
- Women and HIV
- Contraception
- Menopause and
- PMS

Our speakers, including Dr Anne Connolly, James Woolgar, Dr Ginny Beckett, Dr Caroline Gazet, Dr Toni Hazell, and Dr Victoria Barber, will look at the evidence on a variety of women's health issues, and translate this into practical guidance and useful tips for your own practice.

Workshops will be delivered by Dr Julie Oliver, Tracey Elliott, Dr Victoria Cogger, Dr Sarah Gray, Dr Louise Price, Dr Hannah Short and Dr Jane Davis.

The virtual event, for primary care clinicians, will be delivered through a mixture of live sessions and small group workshops by experts in the field who are either delivering services in primary care, or working closely with those who do.

There will be an opportunity to network with colleagues virtually and earn CPD points.

Booking opens on 1st October. Register your interest today. Secure your place today. Book now.
